LOT 149 - Stoneware Whiskey Jug

Antique Yes

Description

Here's a stoneware jug that says, "I've seen some things." Whether it was holding moonshine in a prohibition-era barn or simply water in the kitchen of a simpler time, this piece has stories to tell—if only clay could talk. The jug features a classic two-tone design with a rich brown glazed top and a natural stone base. The sturdy handle adds to its charm and functionality (though we can't promise it'll hold your modern margaritas). Perfect for farmhouse decor, rustic collections, or a centerpiece that sparks nostalgia. A timeless relic, ready for its next chapter.
