

Sale Name: 2024 Auction Finale
LOT 22 - Handmade Alaskan Doll

Description

This remarkable handcrafted Inuit doll, purchased in Homer, Alaska, is not just a collectible but a story encapsulated in fur and craftsmanship. Donned in traditional attire crafted from authentic fur, this doll represents the artistry and culture of the indigenous people near the Bering Strait. Included is a handwritten note detailing its origin and significance, adding an intimate and personal touch to this piece.

Whether you're a collector of cultural artifacts, a lover of unique decor, or simply intrigued by tales from the North, this doll is sure to warm your heart—even if it comes from the frosty lands of Alaska!

Quantity: 1

<https://bids.thelocalauctionco.com/>